

Merino jumbo yarn

Textile work created by Barbara Grabher
Contributed by Wilmarie Rosado Pérez, 2019

The object is a blanket that fellow GRACE researcher Barbara Grabher fabricated from merino jumbo yarn. The yarn has been transformed into a blanket through the technique of arm knitting. The technique in combination with the thick yarn visualizes each knot individually: due to the continuous repetition of knots, a soft but consistent surface is created.

